Nighttime Readiness Posture

Red Alert SOP — For buildings WITHOUT a Mamad / Mamak

Before Bed Setup

- [ ] News / situation scan completed
  Check current threat level — assess if it is safe to sleep at home tonight
- [ ] Phone charging, volume ON, location services ON
  Red Alert app active; Do Not Disturb OFF or alerts whitelisted
- [ ] Clothes laid out by bed
  Full outfit ready to throw on in seconds — shirt, pants, underwear
- [ ] Closed-toe shoes positioned by bed
  Ready to step into immediately; not across the room
- [ ] Torch / flashlight within arm's reach
  On nightstand or bedside — not buried in go bag
- [ ] Glasses positioned by bed (if needed)
  Same spot every night — grab without thinking
- [ ] Keys accessible and in known location
  By bed or on hook by front door — not buried in a coat pocket

Go Bag & Exit Route

- [ ] Baby carrier by front door and ready to grab
  Wrap or structured carrier — you may need both hands free
- [ ] Go bag packed and positioned by front door
- [ ] Infant supplies in go bag
  Pacifier, bottle/formula, nappies, wipes, muslin/blanket
- [ ] Medications in go bag (if taking)
- [ ] Power bank on charge and ready to grab
  Near go bag or by front door
- [ ] Hallway and exit route clear of obstructions
  Can navigate in the dark without tripping
- [ ] Front door can be opened quickly
  Not double-locked; key at hand if needed

Sleep Conditions

- [ ] No earplugs — hearing must be clear
  You must be able to hear the siren and phone alert
- [ ] Protected space priority order — understood
  Mamad > Shelter > Inner stairwell > Inner room (see decision flowchart)
- [ ] Route to nearest shelter — known and walkable in the dark
  Have you walked it at night? Know alternate if primary is locked?

By: Daniel Rosehill + Claude Opus · Share freely with attribution
DISCLAIMER: This is NOT an official government resource. Use at your own risk. Guidance based on Home Front Command (Pikud HaOref) publications as of 12 March 2026. For official guidance visit oref.org.il.